IX. New Business

- A. Revision to English Language Proficiency Exemptions (see attached language) – Dr. McGee

After meeting with an international consultant, a revision to the English Language Proficiency Exemption list was recommended. This revision expanded the number of countries and further clarified which countries are exempt. This aligns more appropriately with the undergraduate policy as well.

Comments from Dr. Kirkby:

What does it mean to be “from a country?”

What does it mean to be “educated in a country?”

We need to list the United States to this list

How many years should someone be educated in an English speaking country?

After a lengthy discussion new language was created to the Exemptions to the English proficiency test requirements requiring the length of time a student had to be educated in a English speaking country was approved.

B. Feedback related to Termination of Senior Graduate Faculty Status

Consultation with Kay Lennon-McGrew regarding the elimination of the Senior Graduate Status.
