

Biology First: Infusing Biological and Concepts and Technology into the Elementary and Secondary Science Curriculum

This project, if funded, will advance public understanding and appreciation of science and math by targeting teachers, students, and other community members.

Amount requested: $750,000 from Howard Hughes Medical Institute.