

When graduate-level writing assignments are no joke...

The Center for Academic Achievement can help!

The CFAA— located on the first floor of the Sherrod Library (on the left between the Library's front desk and Einstein's Bagels) offers graduate-level tutoring on all things writing-related as a free service available to ETSU students!

They can help with short writing assignments like discussion boards, papers for courses, or even thesis and dissertation projects! They are available seven days a week to help ETSU Graduate Students become stronger, more confident writers.

- Appointments are not required but are preferable so you can avoid wait times.
- To set up a tutoring appointment, a student must create an account. <https://etsu.mywconline.com/register.php>
- Then, use the drop-down menu to narrow tutoring staff down to graduate-level tutors
- After narrowing the search, pick a white box during a convenient time to schedule an appointment!
- You can receive tutoring in-person or over Zoom!
- Walk-In appointments are also an option, and services are available at various times throughout the week (and weekend!) to work with graduate students' busy schedules.
