

ENGL 4407/5407
“LONDON THEATRE”—Study Abroad
May 15-30, 2017

Dr. Katherine Weiss (weisk01@etsu.edu)

DESCRIPTION: “London Theatre” takes place in central London during pre-summer session. After two weeks of attending specific live performances at Shakespeare’s Globe, the National Theatre, the Almeida Theatre, and various other theatres in the West End and North London, participating in arranged discussion groups, and visiting historical sites and museums, students will return to Tri-Cities at which time they will have a week to complete their assignments.

COURSE CREDIT: ENGL 4407/5407: “London Theatre” is a 3 credit hour, serious look at historic and modern theatre, requiring reading, observing, and critical writing. Honors students may receive 3 credit hours of Honors credit for the course (ENGL 4407.088).

TOTAL ESTIMATED COST: $4,637 for undergraduate students; $4,972 for graduate students

