I. ACADEMIC POSITIONS

2015-present East Tennessee State University
Chair, Department of Sociology and Anthropology
2014-present East Tennessee State University
Associate professor, Department of Sociology and Anthropology
2007-present American Museum of Natural History
Research associate, Department of Anthropology
2009-2014 East Tennessee State University
Assistant professor, Department of Sociology and Anthropology
2005-2009 St. John Fisher College
Assistant professor, Department of Anthropology

II. EDUCATION

2005 Ph.D. Southern Illinois University Carbondale (Anthropology)
“The bioarchaeology of ritual violence in Postclassic El Petén, Guatemala”
1998 M.A. Southern Illinois University Carbondale (Anthropology)
“Lincoln, Reagan and the oral-literate continuum”
1996 B.A. Wake Forest University (Anthropology)

III. RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Bioarchaeology
- Biological Distance
- Dental Anthropology
- Forensic Osteology
- Mesoamerica
- Ritual Violence
- Mortuary Practices
- Embodiment

IV. GRANTS

Sole author unless noted otherwise

† Student collaborator

A. External

2013 Dumbarton Oaks Summer Stipend - $3,000
The roots of violence: Identifying links between the Northern and Southern Lowlands among the Postclassic Maya
2011 National Science Foundation - $250,000
Integrating developmental morphogenetic theory with dental biodistance practices (BCS # 1063942 awarded to CM Stojanowski, WN Duncan, J Femiani, GR Scott)
2008 National Science Foundation Research Experiences for Undergraduates - $7,950
(REU Supplementary grant for BCS #0640170 awarded to AK Balkansky, WN Duncan)
2007 National Science Foundation - $176,222
The archaeological precursors of the Mixtec civilization (BCS #0640170 awarded to AK Balkansky, WN Duncan)
2002 National Science Foundation Doctoral Dissertation Improvement Grant - $11,307

A bioarchaeological investigation of Postclassic civic-ceremonial burials in Petén, Guatemala (BCS #0125311 awarded to PM Rice, WN Duncan)

B. Internal

- 2016 ETSU Research Development Committee - $1,500
Building an online platform to archive and host skeletal and dental data for public use (ETSU RDC #16-012sm)
- 2013 ETSU Research Development Committee - $1,500
The Roots of violence: Identifying links between the Northern and Southern Lowlands among the Postclassic Maya (ETSU RDC #13-035sm)
- 2011 ETSU Research development Committee - $10,000
Identification of migrants among sacrificial victims in Mesoamerica (ETSU RDC #12-006m)
- 2010 ETSU Research Development Committee - $1,500
Ethnographic study of sweatbath use by Mixtec midwives in Oaxaca, Mexico (ETSU RDC #11-004sm)
- 2009 SJFC travel grant - $730
- 2008 SJFC travel grant - $520
- 2007 SJFC faculty development grant - $2,487
Chemical analysis of the Fort King George cranium
- 2006 SJFC faculty development grant - $3,585
Establishing the feasibility of chemical analyses on human remains from excavations around the Petén lakes, El Petén, Guatemala
- 2006 SJFC travel grant - $600

C. External student grants advised

- †2009 National Geographic Young Explorers Grant - $2,558
Ethnographic study of Mixtec sweatbaths and midwives (NGS-YEG 8694-09 awarded to Martha Black)

V. RESEARCH AWARDS

- 2007 American Museum of Natural History Invited Research Associate
- 2000 SIUC University Doctoral Fellowship
- 1999 SIUC University Doctoral Fellowship
- 1999 Sigma Xi inductee

VI. RESEARCH PRODUCTS

- 2015 Stojanowski, CM, WN Duncan, J Femiani, C-Y Chiang, K Paul. Web-based infrastructure and online database for research in dental phenomics.

VIII. PRESENTATIONS

A. Invited Conference Presentations

- 2019 Paul, KS, CM Stojanowski, WN Duncan, KM Johnson. Validating foundational assumptions of dental morphology using quantitative genetics. Presented in the symposium, “Global leadership in dental anthropological research: A symposium in honor of G. Richard Scott” at the 88th Annual Meeting of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists, Cleveland, OH.
- 2018 Duncan, WN, CM Stojanowski. Emerging opportunities and challenges in forensic biohistory. Presented in the session “Boundary bodies: Critically thinking the body in contemporary osteoarchaeology” at the 24th Annual Meeting of the European Association of Archaeologists, Barcelona, Spain.
- 2015 Duncan, WN, CM Stojanowski. Criminality, narrative, and the expert witness in American biohistory. Presented in the symposium, “The criminal corpse” at the 114th Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association, Denver, CO.
- 2015 Duncan, WN, AK Balkansky, G Vail. Pregnancy and politics: Interpretation of an early Mixtec sweatbath. Presented in the symposium, “Childbirth rites in Mesoamerica” at the American Society for Ethnohistory, Las Vegas, NV.
- 2015 Duncan, WN, G Vail. Burning blood and bone among the Postclassic Maya: gender, complementary dualism, and the material record. Presented in symposium, “Smoke, flames, and the human body in Mesoamerican ritual practice” a Pre-Columbian Studies Symposium at Dumbarton Oaks.
- 2015 Duncan, WN, G Vail, PM Rice. Fire and smoke in Postclassic Petén: human remains, deity effigies, and codices. Presented in the symposium “Smoke, flames, and the body in

- Mesoamerican ritual practice” at the 80th Annual Meeting of the Society for American Archaeology, San Francisco, CA.
- 2014 Duncan, WN. What essences were ritually sealed through Maya cranial modification? Presented in the symposium “Cultural meanings of head treatments in Mesoamerican and Andean societies” at the 79th annual meeting of the Society for American Archaeology in Austin, TX.
- 2013 Duncan, WN, CM Stojanowski, KM Johnson. Sinodonty and beyond: Reasserting the relevance of dental anthropology for understanding the peopling of the New World. Presented in the symposium “Variation in human dental form: A symposium in honor of Edward F. Harris” at the 82nd annual meeting of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists, Knoxville, TN.
- 2012 Duncan, WN. Modificación craneal en Oaxaca - más que estatus social. Presented at the “Segundo Coloquio Internacional de Bioarqueología” organized by La Facultad de Ciencias Antropológicas de la Universidad de Autónoma de Yucatán, Merida, Mexico.
- 2012 Duncan, WN and K Schwarz. Body fragmentation in a Maya mass grave. Presented at the Archaeological Sciences of the Americas Symposium, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, TN.
- 2012 Duncan, WN. Using a regional approach to distinguish aggressors and victims in the archaeological record. Presented in the symposium “Bioarchaeology and forensic case studies of sectarian violence, revolts, and small-scale warfare” at the 81st annual meeting of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists, Portland, Oregon.
- 2012 Duncan, WN and K Schwarz. Operationalizing fragmentation theory in mass graves. Presented in the symposium “Commingled and disarticulated human remains: Working towards improved theory, method and data” at the 77th annual meeting of the Society for American Archaeology, Memphis, TN.
- 2011 Duncan, WN. Discussant for mortuary theory and biological distance for the Fryxell Award forum for Jane Buikstra. The 76th annual meeting of the Society for American Archaeology, Sacramento, CA.
- 2011 Duncan, WN. Using what remains. Trophy taking among the Maya. Presented in the symposium “Current research in Maya bioarchaeology” at the 76th annual meeting of the Society for American Archaeology, Sacramento, CA.
- 2010 Duncan, WN. Biological distance among victims of ritual violence from a Postclassic Maya temple. Presented in the symposium “Bioarchaeological signatures of violence and aggression” at the 79th annual meeting of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists, Albuquerque, NM.
- 2006 Duncan, WN. Mortuary violence among the Maya: reconsidering Maurice Bloch’s positive and negative predation. Presented in the symposium “Transforming biological anthropology” at the 105th annual meeting of the American Anthropological Association, San Jose, CA.
- 2004 Duncan, WN, CA Hofling. Polysemic association between cranial modification and architectural construction. Presented in the symposium “Tensions, theory, and directions in bioarchaeology” at the 103rd annual meeting of the American Anthropological Association, Atlanta, GA.
- 2001 Duncan, WN. Understanding ritual violence in the archaeological record: behavior versus meaning. Presented in the symposium “Expanding the scope of bioarchaeology: case studies in meaning and interpretation” at the 66th annual meeting of the Society for American Archaeology, New Orleans, LA.
- 1999 Duncan, WN. Postclassic mortuary practices in civic/ceremonial contexts in Petén, Guatemala. Presented in the symposium “The Petén Itzá and their neighbors” at the 64th annual meeting of the Society for American Archaeology, Chicago, IL.

IX. PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2011- Co-principal investigator for Integrating Morphogenetic Practice and Theory with Christopher M. Stojanowski, John Femiani, and G. Richard Scott
- 2016 Consultation on remains for the Mt. Carmel, TN Police Department
- 2010- Project osteologist for the El Palenque Project with Charles Spencer and Elsa Redmond
- 2015 Oaxaca, Mexico
- 2010 Conducted interviews with Mixtec midwives about sweatbath use in Oaxaca, Mexico
- 2007- Co-principal investigator and osteologist for the Mixtec Civilization Formative

- 2009 Project with Andrew Balkansky, Oaxaca Mexico
- 2007 Project osteologist for the Proyecto Arqueológico Itzá del Petén with Prudence Rice, El Petén, Guatemala
- 2008 Project osteologist for the Classic Jalieza Project with Christina Elson and Luca Casparis, Oaxaca, Mexico
- 2007 Project osteologist for the Prehistory of the Andean Piedmont and High Llanos in Barinas, Venezuela with Charles Spencer and Elsa Redmond
- 2006 Project osteologist for the San Martin Tilcajete Formative Project with Charles Spencer and Elsa Redmond, Oaxaca, Mexico
- 2005 Project osteologist for Proyecto Arqueológico Tayata with Andrew Balkansky
- 2002 Principal investigator of Proyecto Bioarqueológico de Zacpetén with Lic. Rolando Torres
- 1998 Project osteologist and crew leader for Proyecto Maya Colonial, El Petén, Guatemala with Prudence and Don Rice
- 1997 Intern at Smithsonian Institution for Douglas Ubelaker
- 1996 Analyzed human remains from the Hunting Creek site, NC (31De155)
- 1995 Crew member for cultural resource management excavations in Longview, TX for Keller and associates
- 1994 Crew member for excavations in Wilkes County, NC for Wake Forest University archaeology labs
- 1994 Crew member for excavations at Bethabara Moravian Historic Park, Winston Salem, NC with John Klauser for North Carolina office of state archaeology

X. TEACHING

Instructor of record in each; Research class or independent study*

A. Physical Anthropology

Introduction to Physical Anthropology, Forensic Anthropology, Race and Human Variation, Paleoanthropology, Human Osteology*, Evolutionary Theory*, Dental Anthropology*
