

VITA

FENOSE OSEDEME

Personal Data:

June 22
Jos, Nigeria

Education:

M.P.H. Community Health, East Tennessee State University,
Johnson City, Tennessee 2019
M.S. Health Systems Management, University of Baltimore,
Baltimore, Maryland 2016
B.Sc. Biochemistry, Covenant University, Ogun State, Nigeria
2011

Experience:

Graduate Research Assistant, East Tennessee State University,
College of Nursing, 2017-2019
Graduate Research Assistant, University of Baltimore, College of Public Affairs, 2014-2016

Publications & Presentations:

Osedeme F, Orimaye, S.O., Antwan Jones, A., Paul, T., Blackwell, J., Budoff, M., & Mamudu, H.M. (2018). Individual and contextual factors associated with sub-clinical atherosclerosis in diabetes patients in rural Central Appalachia- APHA 2018 Annual Conference Poster
Presentation
Abolaji A.O, Osedeme F, Olusemire O. (2013). Artesunate– amodiaquine combination therapy in the absence of malarial parasite infection induces oxidative damage in female rats. Cell Biochem Funct (2013) DOI:
10.1002/cbf.3020

Honors and Awards:

Lawrence Short Academic Excellence Award for International Student (Graduate category)
Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges
Outstanding MPH Community Health Student Award