Starting off with your Spring semester goals can be difficult.
The Sherrod Library offers some great resources for students to succeed in their academic work.

The Sherrod Library is open 24 hours a day throughout the week, with weekend hours that vary. If you need assistance with research, contact Dr. Wendy Doucette, the Graduate Research and Instruction Librarian, via email (doucettew@etsu.edu) or by phone (423-439-4336). Appointments can also be made online by visiting the library’s website.

Starting off with your Spring semester goals can be difficult. The Sherrod Library offers some great resources for students to succeed in their academic work.

If you’re having trouble with writing, the Center for Academic Achievement (CFAA) offers support in written assignments including discussion boards, course papers, as well as thesis and dissertations. Appointments are not required, but they are preferred to avoid the wait times when the center gets busy. The CFAA is located on the first floor of the library - just down the hallway on the left between the front desk and Einstein’s Bagels. Call 423-439-7111 or visit their front desk to schedule an appointment.