The Drivers

1. The Global, knowledge based economy
2. The recognition that STEM fields underpin modern life and our standard of living
3. The need for all students to be STEM literate and the need for STEM experts
4. The need to build a skilled workforce of problem solvers, innovators and inventors
5. The need for lifelong learning