

2018 Appalachian Student Research Forum

April 4~5, 2018

Millennium Center, Johnson City, TN

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The Appalachian Student Research Forum is a regional competition in which participants present their research in a formal setting. The Forum is open to undergraduate, graduate, medical and pharmacy students, as well as post-docs, medical residents and fellows, from universities and colleges across the Appalachian region

POSTER PRESENTATIONS:

Classifications:

- I. Undergraduate Student
- II. Graduate Student – Master’s Candidate
- III. Graduate Student – Doctoral Candidate
- IV. Medical Student
- V. Pharmacy Student
- VI. Post-Doctoral Fellow
- VII. Medical Resident or Clinical Fellow

DEADLINE:
March 2, 2018

ORAL PRESENTATIONS:

Eligibility:

All Classifications except Undergraduates

ETSU Undergraduates wishing to present their research via oral presentation should register for the Boland Symposium, a separate event.

Note: The numbers of poster and oral presentations are limited by time and space constraints. Presenters may be selected based on abstract merit.

DEADLINE:
March 2, 2018

Presentations will be accepted for each of the following topics:

- Arts and Humanities
- Biomedical and Health Sciences
- Business
- Education and Learning
- Engineering and Technology
- Natural Sciences
- Social and Behavioral Sciences

For details and to register and submit your abstract online, visit:

<http://www.etsu.edu/studentresearch/>

Additional questions? E-mail us at research@etsu.edu