Dear Families,

This week in second grade we have been learning about inside the Earth and changes in the Earth. We will learn more about changes after break. We also learned more about maps. We will continue to build on our map skills throughout the year. If you are going somewhere fun (or staying home) and can grab a map we would love to start a collection of maps for our classroom.

In Math we have been working hard with addition with regrouping two-digit numbers. We assessed our learning today and I will use those assessments to plan for where we pick up after break. We will likely be reviewing this skill when we return and then we will be moving into two-digit subtraction with regrouping.

In Language Arts have been enjoying the book Gooney Bird Greene by Lois Lowery. We will finish up this book after our break and use it to springboard into writing projects. Next quarter you can expect to see Wordly Wise, spelling, and book bags that come home weekly to become part of our Language Arts routine.

I have had a great time with your children this quarter! I can't wait to see how much they learn and grow next quarter! Have a great break.

☺ Dr. Kelli

Questions to Ask Your Child:

- Tell me about the layers of the Earth.
- How do you know when to regroup when adding and when you don't need to regroup?
- Tell me about Gooney Bird Greene.

Announcements:

- We would love to have your box tops to earn money to purchase things for our classroom. Please send them in if you have them!
- We will return to school on Monday, October 7th.
- If your child would like to write a note of appreciation for Ms. Day those can be returned after the break.
- Check out Lost and Found in our school hallway!
