

Double-Entry Daybook Assignment

While you are reading your Book Club nonfiction novel, you will be expected to record responses to the reading in a double-entry format in your daybook. (This means you will have total of ten entries for your novel.) You may include interesting quotations from the text, questions about the text, and connections between the text and your own life. During your book club discussion, you may then use these entries as talking points.

Text and Page Number (Paraphrase or quote a meaningful passage.)	Response (Analyze the text, form a personal connection, or pose a thoughtful question.)
