East Tennessee State University (ETSU) has a long and rich history, immersed with excellence and tradition. ETSU has become known as a leading intercollegiate athletics institution not only in the region and Southeast but also nationally. As we enter a new era, this guide is aimed at creating and projecting an identity that will foster unity across campus and present an image that is immediately identifiable.

Brand standards ensure that all athletic programs and communications media share a common look consistent with university branding and marketing efforts. This style guide should be followed to establish and maintain branding consistency. Logos are to be used only as explicitly depicted in this guide. These standards apply to uniforms, team apparel, facilities, signage, Web and advertising – all visible athletics representation. The fundamentals of this style guide define a unified consistent brand for the athletics program.

Please refer to this Guide for detailed information related to mark uses with facilities, events, apparel, uniforms, equipment, awards/gifts, stationery, electronic signatures, club sports, camps, clinics, and other applications.

Our branded Athletic Buccaneer marks must be used as approved and displayed in this Guide. Any other Buccaneer representation (swords, clip art Buccaneers, skulls etc.) must not be used to represent or associate with the university and/or the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Color Palette

Colors are as important to a brand as logos, symbols and marks. The proper use of color can bring a brand to life, creating excitement and a memorable association. Blue and gold are the official colors of ETSU and one of the strongest elements of ETSU's visual identity.

For Department of Athletics programs, a combination of blue and gold should always be used prominently to help build recognition and association with the university. During competition, Department of Athletics programs must always wear navy and gold to represent the university.

Identity Font

ETSU's Department of Athletics visual identity includes an identity font that complements the new logos and is to be used in program identifiers, headers, web, and other marketing media.

Stationery Font

Georgia, Arial and Times New Roman, standard on most computers, are acceptable when letters or memos are created in word-processing software and laser-printed on official stationery.

Electronic Media Fonts

Arial and Helvetica are used for the ETSU and Athletics websites and should be used for e-mail and other electronic media. It is most important in electronic media that the chosen typeface is clear, easy to read, and professional looking. Choices for PowerPoint presentations are Arial, Georgia and Times New Roman.

Athletic Primary Logo

The ETSU Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' primary logo is the stand alone E. The logo depicts an E with the shape of the state of Tennessee serving as the middle arm of the E.

The colors of all athletic program uniforms and team gear will display the athletic primary logo and/or athletic wordmark in the school colors of blue and gold as designated in the Identity Standards, unless approved in advance by Identity. Although the primary marks are always preferred, team gear such as workout or travel apparel may display the secondary identifier and/or secondary marks.

While it is tempting to use the E as a letter in a word, our long-term strategy is designed to maintain brand integrity and maintain consistency. This means that the E logo is not to be used in a word, but to be kept as a logo; to be used as a separate design element, not as a letter.

The ETSU Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' identity marks are only for use by the University's athletic department and University sanctioned sports, with exception of the spirit mark that may be used by registered student organizations. See spirit mark logo page for additional information.

Trademark designations should not be displayed for internal use, such as on team uniforms, practice or travel gear, equipment, signage, etc.

Athletic Secondary Logos

The secondary athletics logos are complementary marks for representing ETSU Athletics. The secondary logos are intended as decorative or retail product images for use in contexts in which the name of the university has already been established. They should NEVER be used as the primary identifier of ETSU athletics. Although the primary marks are always preferred, team gear such as workout or travel apparel may display the secondary identifier and/or secondary marks. The secondary logos should be used in strict adherence to the visual identity guidelines in this manual.

East Tennessee State University in first reference is acceptable, but subsequent references should be ETSU. ETSU is the preferred reference for announcers, scoreboard displays, statistical abbreviations, etc. East Tennessee, East Tennessee State, Eastern or State are not acceptable.

For television in-game and studio graphics, newscast (television) and newspaper graphic displays the primary mark is preferred followed by the athletic wordmark and then “ETSU” based upon context.

All teams (men’s and women’s) should be referred to as Buccaneers, but Bucs is also acceptable.

The sports club designation must be clearly stated as an identifier so not to be confused as a Department of Athletics program.

The Wayne G. Basler Center for Physical Activity student sports clubs and the Olympic training programs within the Center of Excellence for Sport Science and Coach Education, may use the primary athletic mark and the ETSU secondary word mark with prior approval from the Office of University Relations and according to the guidelines set forth in the Identity Standards. The sports club or organization designation must be clearly stated as an identifier so not to be confused as a Department of Athletics program.

Internet And Social Media
